Award 1 mark for identification of a possible conflict, plus 2 further marks for explaining why this conflict exists, up to a total of 3 marks. Conflict can exist between workers and owners (1). This is because workers typically want more pay (1), whereas owners often want to increase their profits (1). Conflict can exist between owners and suppliers (1). This is because suppliers want to be paid on time to preserve their cash flow (1), but businesses want to retain cash as long as possible (1). Accept any other appropriate response. Answers that list more than one conflict with no explanation will be awarded a maximum of 1 mark.

Award up to 2 marks for linked points outlining an impact on a stakeholder group of Last Course Patisserie. Award a maximum of 1 mark if points are not linked. Employees (1) will be affected as they may have to travel away from Devon to work at the new location (1). The owners/shareholders (1) will be affected as the new premises will allow increased production of desserts and therefore more sales (1). Do not accept an impact that would not be appropriate for Last Course Patisserie. For example, the new premises will allow the business to compete with major brands.

Since then Loco has surrounded itself with creative talent. This includes world class SUP shapers, graphic designers and team riders, who compete in competitions using its boards. Within months of its new SUPs becoming available, one of the team went on to win the British National Championship and represent Team GB in the World Championships.

(Source: © Longjourneys/Shutterstock)

Loco now sells an extensive range of SUPs, surf and kite boards throughout the UK and Europe and is ready to further extend its brand. Joe feels that the use of digital marketing using social media is vital in this growth. This combination of creative marketing and Joe's active role in the business, by offering advice to customers, has provided him with a firm belief that Loco can compete against larger manufacturers.

Indicative content: Employees and owners may disagree about working practices in the business (AO1b). Employees may put pressure on the owners for higher pay (AO1b). This will lead to lower productivity and therefore increased costs of production within the business. This could lead to lower profits in the business (AO3a). Increases in wages could lead to employees needing to be paid more which could therefore lower profit margins (AO3a). Levels: Level 0 (0) No rewardable material. Level 1 (1–2): Demonstrates elements of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues, with limited business terminology used (AO1b). Attempts to deconstruct business information and/or issues, finding limited connections between points (AO3a). Award 1 mark for identification of a disadvantage, plus 2 further marks for explaining this disadvantage, up to a total of 3 marks. Amelia Cooper trained as a plumber six years ago. Since then she has worked for a building company that carries out repairs to houses and business premises in the Birmingham area.

Amelia is now in a position where she wants to start her own plumbing business called Lili Heating Ltd. Even though there are many plumbers in the Birmingham area Amelia feels she has a unique selling point – she is a woman. Many female customers feel that they can relate more closely with a woman doing repairs in their homes.

As part of her business plan, Amelia has identified some clear aims and objectives and conducted a large amount of market research using the internet. Her target market requires clear advice on what work needs to be done and how much she will charge. Amelia also thinks she can cut down on advertising costs by getting her customers to recommend Lili Heating Ltd to their friends and families. For this to happen she knows that her work must be of the highest standard.

Amelia's business plan also included a wide range of financial information to help her forecast the potential success of the business and see if she would need an overdraft.

Award up to 2 marks for linked points outlining a reason why the government would want Lili Heating Ltd to be successful. Award a maximum of 1 mark if points are not linked. The government will collect more tax if Lili Heating Ltd is successful (1). Taxes will be based on the profits it makes from plumbing repairs (1). The government will want more people to be employed (1). Amelia may employ more female plumbers if the business is a success (1). Award any other valid answer. To award 2 marks there must linked development and evidence of application.

Indicative content: Ordering in advance allows customers to spend less time queuing in the shop as they will not need to wait for the food to be prepared (AO2). As customers are not having to queue for as long as before, the chance of getting negative TripAdvisor reviews, such as in Figure 2, is reduced (AO2). The slow service appears to be the only negative aspect, so by addressing this, the owners are helping to meet the needs of their customers and will gain repeat purchase as a result (AO3a). This improves the convenience for customers, who are unhappy at the time it can take to queue to pay (AO3a). Level 1 (1-2): Limited application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context (AO2). Attempts to deconstruct business information and/or issues, finding limited connections between points (AO3a). Indicative content: Machinery can work more quickly than employees which will increase the rate of production (AO2). Employing more staff allows Last Course Patisserie to continue using existing production methods (AO2). An increased rate of production will allow more desserts to be produced in the same amount of time. This will reduce the average costs of making each dessert. Last Course Patisserie can then decide to maintain existing price and make more profit per dessert or reduce its price to gain competitive advantage over other hand-made products (AO3a). Last Course Patisserie can be flexible when making its products because they are hand-made. If it continues to make the desserts by hand then this can be seen as a quality feature which adds value to the food (AO3a). Investing in machinery involves high initial costs. This invested may therefore be wasted because the increased demand for the desserts may not be sustainable. This could still be made comfortably by hand if there were more employees and more space (AO3b). If the business continues to expand then the use of machinery may become inevitable. If levels of demand for the new menu continue to rise then employee only production will not be able to supply the market with enough desserts (AO3b).

Level 1 (1-3 marks): Limited application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context (AO2). Attempts to deconstruct business information and/or issues, finding limited connections between points (AO3a). Makes a judgement, providing a simple justification based on limited evaluation of business information and issues relevant to the choice made (AO3b).

Deconstructs business information and/or issues, finding interconnected points with chains of reasoning, although there may be some logical inconsistencies (AO3a). Makes a judgement, providing a justification based on sound evaluation of business information and issues relevant to the choice made (AO3b).

© Aphrodite Clothing

Aphrodite is a clothes shop that was formed in 1994 by two brothers, Andrew and Duncan McKenzie. They opened the shop because they had a lifelong enthusiasm for new fashion.

Andrew and Duncan visit Paris, Milan and London each year to buy their stock. They aim to buy well-known brands, such as Stone Island and Hugo Boss, and to also stock clothes from new designers. This range of stock helps provide them with an advantage over their competition.

Customer service has always been an important part of Aphrodite's success. A polite and friendly attitude greets all customers on arrival at the shop. In 2007 the business launched its website, which sells its range of clothing using e-commerce. The owners looked to maintain existing high standards of service for customers using their website.

A new opportunity was created when the shop premises next to Aphrodite became available to buy. Andrew and Duncan are considering buying the shop in order to convert the two shops into one large premises. They have calculated that this will cost them £250 000 but are undecided on the best way to finance this.

On Your Bike is a family owned business that first opened in London in 1983. Its customers include children buying their first bikes and scooters, through to experienced enthusiasts in road cycling and mountain biking.

The business offers a wide range of bikes, many imported from abroad. These include high quality brands such as Brompton, Cannondale and Ridgeback. It also stocks a wide range of clothing and helmets including brands such as Endura and Altura.

(Source: © Ramon Espelt Photography/Shutterstock)

On Your Bike has large workshop facilities in its shop where qualified mechanics maintain and repair all makes of bike. All mechanics go on regular training courses to ensure they keep their skills and knowledge up to date with the latest cycling technology. This allows On Your Bike to offer exceptional customer service and advice.

The cycling market has grown over recent years. Market research has shown that an increasing number of tourists like to rent bikes when on holiday. In response to this, On Your Bike operates one of the largest bike rental services in London. Bikes can be hired by the day or week with a choice including road and electric bikes.

Indicative content: It can increase the number of customers because reviews on social media platforms can be shared by other tourists when visiting London (AO2). It is difficult for the business to respond to negative reviews of the cycle rental service (AO2). As a result, tourists may now consider renting cycles after reading the reviews whereas previously they did not know that this service existed (AO3a). Therefore, even if a review is incorrect, if anyone reads it may doubt the excellent customer service offered by On Your Bike (AO3a). Level 1 (1-2): Limited application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context (AO2). Indicative content: The market is growing so there will be enough demand for a second cycle shop (AO2). E-commerce will allow a wider range of customers to have access to On Your Bike's range of cycles and clothing (AO2). On Your Bike has already had success with its first shop so it knows that the business model and strategy works. This can therefore be easily replicated in a second shop and if problems occur the business now has experience of being able to respond to these problems (AO3a). Currently the shop can only sell to people that live in London. E-commerce will allow people from all over the world to buy products from the business without On Your Bike having to invest a huge amount of money (AO3a). However, investing in a second shop involves high costs. This investment may therefore be risky because the increased demand for the bikes may not be sustainable. If the business takes out a loan to finance the second shop it will still need to repay the loan and the interest even if demand falls (AO3b). However, On Your Bike's customers may not be interested in buying products using e-commerce. They may prefer to try the bike and physically inspect the product first. Also the tourist rental business does not require e-commerce to make a purchase. They need information that can already be found on website (AO3b).

Level 1 (1-3): Limited application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context (AO2). Attempts to deconstruct business information and/or issues, finding limited connections between points (AO3a). Makes a judgement, providing a simple justification based on limited evaluation of business information and issues relevant to the choice made (AO3b).

Level 2 (4-6): Sound application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context although there may be some inconsistencies (AO2). Deconstructs business information and/or issues, finding interconnected points with chains of reasoning, although there may be some logical inconsistencies (AO3a). Makes a judgement, providing a justification based on sound evaluation of business information and issues relevant to the choice made (AO3b).

Level 3 (7-9): Detailed application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context throughout (AO2). Deconstructs business information and/or issues, finding detailed interconnected points with logical chains of reasoning (AO3a). Makes a judgement, providing a clear justification based on a thorough evaluation of business information and issues relevant to the choice made (AO3b).

Since then Loco has surrounded itself with creative talent. This includes world class SUP shapers, graphic designers and team riders, who compete in competitions using its boards. Within months of its new SUPs becoming available, one of the team went on to win the British National Championship and represent Team GB in the World Championships.

(Source: © Longjourneys/Shutterstock)

Loco now sells an extensive range of SUPs, surf and kite boards throughout the UK and Europe and is ready to further extend its brand. Joe feels that the use of digital marketing using social media is vital in this growth. This combination of creative marketing and Joe's active role in the business, by offering advice to customers, has provided him with a firm belief that Loco can compete against larger manufacturers.

Indicative content: Digital payment systems make it more convenient for customers to pay for SUP products from Loco. This should therefore increase the number of potential customers (AO2). Virtual meetings will make it easier for Joe Thwaites to discuss progress with the creative talent involved in the design of the SUPs (AO2). Loco sells SUPs and surfing equipment throughout Europe. Digital payment systems will allow customers to buy the equipment 24/7. It will also allow payments to be made using different currencies. This helps to remove restrictions that would be in place if Loco only accepted traditional methods of payment (AO3a). In order to come up with the new designs of SUPs Loco had to have meetings with a wide range of people ranging from manufacturers to team riders. Virtual meetings will remove the geographical barrier of having to get all of these people in the same place (AO3a). However, digital payment systems require a lot of maintenance, so they do not become vulnerable to fraud. This, together with the costs of installing the systems, will increase the costs of Loco. Customers may also be wary of buying expensive surfing equipment because of possible security issues (AO3b). However, it is difficult to inspect and test the physical product via a virtual meeting. Loco's brand depends upon how well the product performs. This is something that cannot be done using digital communications (AO3b).

Indicative content: If technology changes Digital Allies will need to provide training and recruit new employees with industry leading knowledge (AO1b). Changes in technology can be seen as a business opportunity for Digital Allies as its clients will need more help in understanding how digital communications can improve their marketing (AO1b). If the business wants to be one of the main digital marketing companies in the UK then it will need high quality employees with the latest technical knowledge and skills (AO2). There will be increased demand for training courses on how social media can be used because clients will be more focused on their own business activities (AO2). The business has a three year expansion strategy and will be moving to new offices. This strategy will be threatened if the employees do not understand the latest technology. Digital Allies' clients will expect them to provide them with the most up to date services. If they do not then they will get advice on digital communications from one of its competitors (AO3a). If there is an increase in demand for training courses then Digital Allies can put on additional courses or possibly charge higher prices for carrying out digital data analysis. This could help fund its expansion plans. They will also have the capacity to offer additional services because they have doubled the workforce to 40 employees (AO3a). However, Digital Allies has recently doubled its workforce to 40 employees. This will depend on whether they have been able to recruit employees with the latest skills and knowledge. As a result, any changes in technology may not affect the business as much as it would have its competitors (AO3b). However, Digital Allies operate in a very competitive market where changes in technology are happening extremely quickly. This will lead to it needing to constantly respond to change if it is to achieve its objective of being one of the leading digital marketing companies in the UK. This will depend if Digital Allies can afford constant investment and the subsequent higher costs in the business (AO3b).

Extract B

In 2004, entrepreneur Mark Zuckerberg started Facebook. Then, in 2012, the company floated on the stock exchange and became a public limited company (plc). By 2020, Facebook plc had become the largest social networking website in the world with 2.5 billion users and advertising revenues of $70.1 billion.

The company has used internal and external growth to expand. Between 2012 and 2020, Facebook purchased over 60 different companies, including WhatsApp, Instagram and the virtual reality company, Oculus. However, Facebook wants to reduce its reliance on revenue from advertising on its websites and sees its future growth coming from new markets such as selling virtual reality headsets. Facebook believes that social media is now reaching the maturity phase in its product life cycle in most of its main markets.

In 2020 Facebook decided to give employees in its European headquarters in Dublin the option to work from home. Facebook believes that remote working will not result in lower productivity. It also believes it will allow Facebook to attract talented people such as coders, graphic designers and software engineers who cannot afford to live in expensive locations such as Dublin. Facebook believes that having less office space will reduce costs and give the company a competitive advantage against its rivals such as Snapchat and Twitter.

(Source: adapted from <https://www.irishtimes.com/business/technology/facebook-to-reopen-irish-offices-in-early-july-1.4259429> and <https://www.theguardian.com/technology/2020/may/21/facebook-coronavirus-remote-working-policy-extended-years/>)

P71060A

Indicative content: Remote working may attract talented workers to Facebook who want to work flexibly (AO1b). Remote working may lead to a feeling of isolation amongst Facebook's employees (AO1b). This is because some highly-skilled workers may not want to live in commuting distance to Facebook's European headquarters in Dublin, due to the need to move or because Dublin is an expensive area (AO2). This because working from home, coding or creating graphics or adverts for social media apps or websites, can become boring without interaction from other creative workers in a face-to-face environment (AO2). Therefore, Facebook may be able to attract the best employees from across Europe/globe who are no longer constrained by their proximity to a Facebook office. This may allow Facebook to become more creative and develop new social media platforms or ideas that can boost its competitive advantage compared to its rivals (AO3a). As a result, Facebook may suffer a lack of new ideas and a lack of creativity compared to its rivals such as Snapchat that may be better positioned to launch new apps or other products to take advantage of changing trends in the technology market (AO3a). However, remote working may cause a reduction in creativity within the company. Facebook employees may not be able to interact as easily compared to a face-to-face setting, which may reduce, rather than improve the creation of ideas. Thus, the impact on creativity depends on which employees decide to work from home and the roles they have within Facebook (AO3b). However, Facebook may be able to reduce the size of its European headquarters in Dublin. This could lead to substantial savings in fixed costs which may allow the company to fund investment in new social media apps and expansion into new markets. The extent to which this occurs, depends on what proportion of its workforce decide to work remotely from home (AO3b).

Level 1 (1-4): Demonstrates elements of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues, with limited business terminology used (AO1b). Limited application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context (AO2). Attempts to deconstruct business information and/or issues, finding limited connections between points (AO3a). Draws a conclusion, supported by generic assertions from limited evaluation of business information and issues (AO3b).

Level 2 (5-8): Demonstrates mostly accurate knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues, including appropriate use of business terminology in places (AO1b). Sound application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context although there may be some inconsistencies (AO2). Deconstructs business information and/or issues, finding interconnected points with chains of reasoning, although there may be some logical inconsistencies (AO3a). Draws a conclusion based on sound evaluation of business information and issues (AO3b).

Level 3 (9-12): Demonstrates accurate knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues throughout, including appropriate use of business terminology (AO1b). Detailed application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context throughout (AO2). Deconstructs business information and/or issues, finding detailed interconnected points with logical chains of reasoning (AO3a). Draws a valid and well-reasoned conclusion based on a thorough evaluation of business information and issues (AO3b).

Award 1 mark for identification of an advantage, plus 2 further marks for explaining this advantage up to a total of 3 marks. E-commerce allows a business to sell products 24/7 (1). This is good because customers can buy products any time they have access to the internet (1). Therefore, the business may experience an increase in revenue (1). A small business may no longer need a physical retail space (1). This will lead to a reduction in fixed costs such as rent (1). This may lead to an increase in profit for the business (1). Accept any other appropriate response. Answers that list more than one advantage with no explanation will be awarded a maximum of 1 mark.

Ripple is an energy company aimed at providing green and renewable energy to homes and businesses across the UK. It is the country's first consumer-owned wind farm, generating green energy that does not have a damaging effect on the environment. Instead of customers paying Ripple to supply them with energy they become members of the business and buy a part of a wind farm located in a remote area of South Wales. Customers are then supplied with energy to their homes based on the amount of money they invested. The amount of money that customers can invest varies on their energy needs, but Ripple claims that it can supply energy cheaper than its competitors.

The process of becoming a member is very simple. Firstly, Ripple will ask customers a few questions to identify their energy needs. It will then create a green energy plan to establish how much each customer should invest into the wind farm. Ripple manages the wind farm and provides energy to each customer's home or business.

Ripple's business plan fits in with the UK government's cleaner energy strategy. This strategy includes plans for the country to have net zero carbon emissions by 2050 and to create 220,000 new jobs in the green energy sector of the economy.

(Source: adapted from <https://rippleenergy.com/>)

Indicative content: Ripple provides green energy through its wind farm in South Wales. Therefore, they would have to pay less tax to the government on any profits made from production and supply of energy. (AO2). As Ripple grows it will need to employ new people in line with the government target of 220,000 new jobs in the green energy sector. As these are new jobs there will be a need for training to develop new skills. (AO2). If Ripple pays less tax to the government then it would have more retained profit to invest into the business. This could result in cheaper energy being provided to its members. As a result, Ripple may attract more investment and could then expand into other green business ideas (AO3a). Training courses can be expensive. Sending new employees on these courses would increase the costs of Ripple. Therefore, if the government pays for this training then Ripple could focus more of its members' investment into expanding the wind farm (AO3a). However, the business is owned by the customers and the main objective may not be profit maximisation. This would limit the effect that any reduction in tax would have on the business (AO3b). However, the business is located in a remote area of the country and may not need to employ many people to manage the wind farm. Therefore, they might not have enough training requirements to fully benefit from the government strategy (AO3b).

Level 1 (1-3): Limited application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context (AO2). Attempts to deconstruct business information and/or issues, finding limited connections between points (AO3a). Makes a judgement, providing a simple justification based on limited evaluation of business information and issues relevant to the choice made (AO3b).

Level 2 (4-6): Sound application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context although there may be some inconsistencies (AO2). Deconstructs business information and/or issues, finding interconnected points with chains of reasoning, although there may be some logical inconsistencies (AO3a). Level 3 (7-9): Detailed application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context throughout (AO2). Deconstructs business information and/or issues, finding detailed interconnected points with logical chains of reasoning (AO3a). Indicative content: People will have higher incomes and are more likely to spend this on luxury goods. This will increase the demand for the hand-made desserts (AO2). Higher consumer income will lead to increased demand in the economy. This could therefore lead to an increase in inflation which could mean the price of ingredients for the desserts may increase (AO2). This supports the plans for Last Course Patisserie to expand. The increase in recent demand for the desserts is now likely to be sustained meaning a longer term investment is less of a risk (AO3a). If suppliers increase the price of the ingredients then Voco Desserts will experience a rise in costs. This could mean they make less profit for each dessert or have to charge a higher price to their customers (AO3a). Level 1 (1-2 marks): Limited application of knowledge and understanding of business concepts and issues to the business context (AO2). aphrodite

© Aphrodite Clothing

Aphrodite is a clothes shop that was formed in 1994 by two brothers, Andrew and Duncan McKenzie. They opened the shop because they had a lifelong enthusiasm for new fashion.

Andrew and Duncan visit Paris, Milan and London each year to buy their stock. They aim to buy well-known brands, such as Stone Island and Hugo Boss, and to also stock clothes from new designers. This range of stock helps provide them with an advantage over their competition.

Customer service has always been an important part of Aphrodite's success. A polite and friendly attitude greets all customers on arrival at the shop. In 2007 the business launched its website, which sells its range of clothing using e-commerce. The owners looked to maintain existing high standards of service for customers using their website.

A new opportunity was created when the shop premises next to Aphrodite became available to buy. Andrew and Duncan are considering buying the shop in order to convert the two shops into one large premises. They have calculated that this will cost them £250 000 but are undecided on the best way to finance this.

Award up to 2 marks for linked points outlining an impact on On Your Bike. Award a maximum of 1 mark if points are not linked. If there is an increase in the value of the pound against other currencies, then imports will become cheaper (1). This will mean they may pay less for bikes made in other countries and therefore reduce costs (1). If there is an increase in the value of the pound against other currencies it will make it more expensive for foreign tourists to visit the UK (1). This will lead to a reduction in demand for On Your Bike's rental business (1). Do not accept an impact that would not be appropriate for On Your Bike. For example, exports will be more expensive if the pound strengthens.

Since then Loco has surrounded itself with creative talent. This includes world class SUP shapers, graphic designers and team riders, who compete in competitions using its boards. Within months of its new SUPs becoming available, one of the team went on to win the British National Championship and represent Team GB in the World Championships.

(Source: © Longjourneys/Shutterstock)

Loco now sells an extensive range of SUPs, surf and kite boards throughout the UK and Europe and is ready to further extend its brand. Joe feels that the use of digital marketing using social media is vital in this growth. This combination of creative marketing and Joe's active role in the business, by offering advice to customers, has provided him with a firm belief that Loco can compete against larger manufacturers.

One disadvantage is that the cost of borrowing will go up (1). This means a business will have to pay even more back if it borrows money (1). This will make it more difficult for the business to expand (1).

Customers will have less disposable income (1). This is because they may have to pay more for any new loans (1). Therefore, the level of demand will fall (1).

Performance Fitness Centre (PFC) is an independent gym and fitness studio. It has been open for seven years and has over 200 members. Members pay a fee of £39 per month for unlimited access to the gym and fitness classes that take place five days per week. Non-members can also pay to use the gym for each individual session they attend.

The gym at PFC is stocked with high specification equipment and weight machines. As a result, it has become very popular with customers interested in maintaining a high level of personal fitness. It has an equal number of male and female customers, but the owner has noticed that there is a lower number of members from people aged over 50. He believes that this may be because they feel out of place amongst the younger membership.

Over the past year a new gym that is part of a large national chain has opened nearby. It is much larger and membership fees at the new gym are only £19 per month. PFC has seen a reduction in new members joining the gym and is now considering what it can do to compete with its larger and cheaper rival. 3

Indicative content: If consumer incomes are high, then people may have more disposable income to spend. This may lead to them spending more money on luxuries such as gym memberships (AO1b). When consumer incomes are low then people will look to cut their spending on products and services they feel they do not need or can be substituted with something else (AO1b). The gym membership at PFC is £39 per month for unlimited visits and fitness classes. Customers may feel that this offers good value on which to spend their additional income (AO2). If consumer incomes are low, then they may consider keeping fit through more cost-effective ways such as walking or jogging. This may lead to new memberships at PFC declining (AO2). An increase in demand from consumers with high income will lead to PFC having more revenue per month. This could provide an opportunity to develop the gym further and introduce additional services such as personal training or food nutrition. These new services could lead to further success for the gym (AO3a). If the number of memberships declines then the business will struggle to maintain its current level of service. It may have to reduce the number of classes it provides to members. This may lead to the members being less loyal and going elsewhere to keep fit (AO3a). However, if spending on gym memberships rises due to high levels of consumer income, then more competitors will enter the market. Gym membership is still quite low in some regions of the UK so there may not be enough customers for a more competitive market (AO3b). However, despite the monthly fee being £39 customers may feel this offers good value for money. They may keep the membership going despite low incomes because they can go as many times as they want. If they enjoy going to the gym they may see this as a cost effective way to spend their time rather than other hobbies or interests (AO3b).

Level 1 (1-4): Elements of knowledge, limited application, supported by generic assertions. Level 2 (5-8): Mostly accurate knowledge, sound application, conclusion based on sound evaluation. Level 3 (9-12): Accurate knowledge throughout, detailed application, valid and well-reasoned conclusion based on thorough evaluation.

Ripple is an energy company aimed at providing green and renewable energy to homes and businesses across the UK. It is the country's first consumer-owned wind farm, generating green energy that does not have a damaging effect on the environment. Instead of customers paying Ripple to supply them with energy they become members of the business and buy a part of a wind farm located in a remote area of South Wales. Customers are then supplied with energy to their homes based on the amount of money they invested. The amount of money that customers can invest varies on their energy needs, but Ripple claims that it can supply energy cheaper than its competitors.

The process of becoming a member is very simple. Firstly, Ripple will ask customers a few questions to identify their energy needs. It will then create a green energy plan to establish how much each customer should invest into the wind farm. Ripple manages the wind farm and provides energy to each customer's home or business.

Ripple's business plan fits in with the UK government's cleaner energy strategy. This strategy includes plans for the country to have net zero carbon emissions by 2050 and to create 220,000 new jobs in the green energy sector of the economy.
